SAPPERTON
#201 – 129 E. Columbia St.
New Westminster, B.C.

New Westminster's oldest historical district is Sapperton, named after the Royal Engineers Columbia Detachment known as 'The Sappers' formed in August 1858 to help the Governor of British Columbia keep order during the Fraser Canyon Gold Rush. The neighbourhood originally housed the barracks and homes for the Sappers and their families with the unit eventually being disbanded in July 1863.

Since then, this eclectic river front community has experienced booming economic growth with development, high rises and attracting unique businesses. Sapperton includes the Brewery District of New Westminster together boasting a vibrant social scene – all in all a great place to live, work and play!
